

CHEMICAL PACKAGING - Dispose of Your Old, Unknown Chemicals

1-888-276-0887

Analyze. Categorize. Package. Transport. Dispose.

Whether you have a storage room full of paints or a lab with expired chemicals, United's team of experienced chemists and technicians can properly characterize, classify, package, transport and dispose of these materials in a safe and environmentally sound manner.

United has the capability to handle virtually all waste chemicals such as organic liquids and solids, heavy metal wastes, reactive chemicals, paints and expired pharmaceuticals.

The proper handling of even a small quantity of exotic lab chemicals can be more daunting than managing thousands of gallons of flammable liquids. It is extremely important that all wastes are characterized so that they may be transported and processed properly.

Over 30 Years of Experience

United supplies a turnkey service managed by experienced professionals with the training and resources to handle any size job from inventory to final disposal. With access to the latest technologies for waste minimization and recycling, United will utilize the best available treatment technologies to provide the "greenest" solution to your chemical disposal and packaging needs.

United specializes in providing scheduled and one-time removals. We can set up inventory and removals on weekly, monthly or quarterly schedules or supply on-site storage cabinets for safe on-site management of hazardous chemicals. Let us know your needs and we can tailor a comprehensive chemical or hazardous material management program around your specific requirements. From training to packaging and removal of unknowns, to disposal using the latest sustainable technologies, United has the expertise and resources to accomplish the task in a safe, responsible and environmentally friendly manner.
